In my Differential Equations series I covered many cases and solutions of ODE's, but there are still many more that are yet to be discovered and many more to talk about in general. One thing that I promised to talk about is how we combine Linear Algebra (matrices) and Differential Equations to find solutions for linear ODE's that are of a much ...

Linear or nonlinear. A second order ODE is said to be linear if it can be written in the form $a(t) \frac{d^2y}{dt^2} + b(t) \frac{dy}{dt} + c(t)y = f(t)$, (1.8) where the coefficients $a(t)$, $b(t)$ & $c(t)$ can, in general, be functions of t . An equation that is not linear is said to be nonlinear.
