1. Introduction. Global CO₂ emissions from fossil fuel combustion in 2018, were estimated to be 37.1 Gt, which is a 2.7% increase over 2017 .This is worrisome as a global average temperature rise of 1.5 °C will easily be exceeded if such increases continue. Deployment of renewable energy and energy efficiency are often considered by the general public as the priority for greenhouse gas (GHG ...
